GLUCOSE MANUFACTURE. Interesting Process by Which Honey Is Made from Indian Corn. The process of making glucoso will be best understood by following the corn from the time it enters the factory until it runs out at a spigot a clear, colorless liquid. The shell corn is first soaked for several days in water to soften the hull and prepare it for the cracking process. The softened corn is conveyed by elevators to one of the higher stories of the factory and shoveled into large hoppers, from which it passes into mills that merely crack the grains without reducing them at once to a fine meal. The of the water, the germs sink to the bottom, and the portions of the grain containing the starch, becoming gradually reduced to flour by friction, are held in solution in the water.

To make grape sugar the glucose is dried in rapidly-revolving vessels, from which much of the moisture esforce. Neither the glucose nor the grape sugar is used for domestic purposses, although either one is about two-thirds as sweet as the sweetest cane sugar. Glucose is chiefly used for fermenting purposes, and of late years has become invaluable to the trawer in making beer and pale ales. It is also largely used in mixtures with cane sirups and molasses, and is esteemed more wholesome than the cane product, which is at best only a side product or residue in the manufacture of cane sugar.—Chicago Mail:

-The last bulletin of the American Geographical Society quotes M. Ganeval as showing that the world is not yet overcrowded. Allowing five acres to each inhabitant, he finds that Eupope has room for an additional population of 115,000,000, Africa for 1,336,000,000, Asia for 1,402,000,000, Oceanica for 515,000,000 and America for 2,000,000,000. The frozen regions of Asia and Europe are deducted from the available space, but Arctic America is somewhat hastily assumed to be fit for cultivation.—American.

-A story comes from the Indian Territory which is to the effect that during the recent eclipse of the moon several thousand Comanches, Kiowas, Cheyennes, Arapahoes and Delawares, near Muskogee, got out their guns and fired volley after volley at the monster which they thought they saw in the sky. The product must show by test that it responds exactly to the chemical formula with that of starch, which is C6, H12, O6. By comparing this formula with that of starch, which is C6, H10, O5—that is, six parts of carbon to ten of hydrogen and five of oxygen—it will be seen that the sulphuric acid has not added to the starch, but has taken up two parts of hydrogen, and the only gain in the starch is one part of oxygen. The lime water introduced to neutralize the acid forms with it a product called gypsun, which can be removed from the glucose without leaving any appreciable trace.

The Ingenious Apparatus for Mechanical ly Molding and Blowing Bottles. An important innovation in the glass-bottle-making trade has been perfected. It is an ingenious apparatus for mechanically molding and blowing glass bottles.

The molding is done mechanically and the blowing by means of com-pressed air, thus relieving the glass blower and his unhealthy and life-shortening occupation. Each pair of machines is fed with molten glass by one youth known as a "gatherer," and each machine is worked by a boy who molds and blows the bottle, and places it on a stand, whence it is removed by another boy called the "taker-in," to the annealing furnace. Each pair of machines is thus served by four hands, three of whom are boys. Upon the occasion "Please see dot der papers say dot I of our visit one pair of machines were died happy. Farewell, sergeant! I go which were turned out at the rate of one hundred and twenty per hour per machine, very perfect bottles being here and you shall hear from it. ROVER. MAJ. S R. CRUMBAUGH,

President of the First National Bank, for the Collectorship.

Of late there has been considerabl talk in the city as to who would probably be appointed as Collector of Internal Revenue of the Second Dis-Wood. In connection with the names of other prominent gentlemen of the District we have heard that of Maj. S. R. Crumbaugh, President of the First National Bank of this city, mentioned as one who would fill the office acceptably to the incoming administration.

Calling at the Major's private room boro Collectorship.

"I will answer that question by saying that I have received fifteen or twenty letters from prominent Re publicans all over the State offering support, and at the proper time 1 shall make application for the Collectorship."

Do you know who will be the other applicants?

"I cannot speak by the card, but have heard the names of Geo. W. Jolly, Capt. Ed Farley, T. J. Tinsley: and Geo. W. Long, of Gravson county with several precincts to hear from My opinion is that Geo. W. Jolly will prefer to be District Attorney at Louisville, as the pay is larger and no bond required and in the line of his profession.

"What is it they put in IVORY SOAP, Doctor, to obtain its healing

"No special ingredient is used. It is simply because the Ivory is as nearly pure as it is possible to make soap. Any soap that is as pure as the Ivory will be equally as healing in its effect, but the difficulty is to find a soap so pure. The profession recommend this non-irritating soap simply to cleanse the wound, then nature does the rest. You can readily appreciate what the effect would be if your neck had been washed with an impure and adulterated soap. Avoid colored and highly perfumed soap, for the coloring and perfume are so often used to disguise something the soap should not contain."

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'lvory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "lvory" Soap and insist upon getting it.
